

Not everything that has a curly coat is a Pure Mangalitsa!

A pure bred pig of a certain breed, should show the breed specific characteristics, but that does not mean that a cross with that breed will NOT show them! That is why a Breed Registry is so important.

In this link of the Mangalitsa Breed Organization & Registry (MBOAR) you can find the breed specific characteristics of the Mangalitsa pig and breed impurities: <https://www.mboar.org/phenotype>

Some of her litter mates had spots, a typical sign of Mangalitsa Berkshire crosses. That's why you always should ask for pictures of the parents and the litter. Buying from a breeder with MBOAR registered stock would also be an option.
